COLLEGE OF LIBRARIANSHIP
THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

SPRING 1979

COMMITTEE ON ACCREDITATION TO VISIT THE COLLEGE IN SEPTEMBER

The College of Librarianship has submitted a self-study report to the American Library Association Committee on Accreditation (COA) as a first step in the periodic review of accreditation. ALA now revisits all schools on a 5-7 year cycle.

A site visit team will visit the campus Sept. 23-27, 1979, and its report will be considered by the COA at the ALA Midwinter Conference in 1980.

It is expected that alumni will be invited to meet with the site visitors during their stay on campus.

ALUMNI REUNION

Alumni attending the ALA Annual Conference in Dallas are invited to meet for cocktails on Wednesday, June 27, from 5 to 7 p.m. in Bill Summers' room at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

IMPORTANT DATES

Registration for second session school is July 11. Registration for fall semester is Aug. 25.

OFF-CAMPUS COURSES FOR FALL 1979

In Greenville this fall Dan Barron will teach LIBR 720, Administration of the School Media Program. Class will be held on Wednesdays from 5 to 7:45 p.m.

In Charleston, LIBR 702, Foundations of Acquisitions and Organization of Information and Materials, will be taught on Thursdays from 5 to 7:45 p.m.

For further information concerning the dates and times for registration, contact Fredi Dixon (777-3887) after Aug. 1.

NEW ADDITIONS

Ms. Christyn Billinsky has been appointed as lecturer for 1979. Ms. Billinsky is a graduate of Simons College and has experience as librarian of the Computer Science Proper Laboratory in Cambridge, Mass. She will be teaching courses in information science.

The new voice you hear and the new face you see in the Dean's office belong to Jean Johnson, who joined the staff in November. Before coming to work in our College, Jean worked as a secretary in the Bureau of Laboratories at DHEC.

In addition to working fulltime and taking care of her three children (two boys and a girl), she enjoys reading, cooking, ceramics (which is momentarily on the back burner), and tennis, although she says of tennis, "I mostly just chase the ball."

MAY HILL ARBUTHNOT HONOR LECTURE

Ms. Sheila Egoff, Professor, School of Librarianship, University of British Columbia, presented the 10th Annual May Hill Arbuthnot Honor Lecture to an audience of more than 250 persons on May 5. Included in the audience were a large number of alumni present for the Alumni Day activities.

The Arbuthnot Lecture is sponsored by the Scott, Foresman Company and is administered by the Association for Library Service to Children, a unit of the American Library Association.

Dr. Duane Johnson, who wrote the proposal leading to USC's being selected to host the lecture, presided at the program.

SPECIALIST DEGREE INCLUDED IN ACADEMIC COMMON MARKET

The Specialist degree has been accepted into the Academic Common Market. Arkansas, Louisiana, and Tennessee have elected use of this program for their residents. Residents of these states who enroll in the Specialist program will be able to pay in-state tuition fees. This will become effective in the fall of 1979.

ALUMNI DAY

The College of Librarianship observed its second annual Alumni Day on May 5. A luncheon and meeting were held at Capstone with about 80 alumni, faculty, staff and guests in attendance.

During the meeting the newly-elected officers of the Alumni Association were introduced: Peg Taylor (1973), president; Neta Murray (1973), vice president; and Mary Daniels (1975), secretary. Executive board members are Jack Bryan (1974), Mary Ann Camp (1975), Frank Hite (1974), and Sarah McMaster (1974). Dean F. William Summers introduced the faculty, staff and guests, and reported on the upcoming ALA accreditation visit and other items of interest to the alumni.

The president of the Association reported the discussion from the executive board meeting held earlier in the day. Alumni were asked to talk with board members about programs and speakers for possible use on Alumni Day in 1980, and to offer suggestions on reunions at professional meetings and other activities they would like to see the Association undertake.

The executive board of the Alumni Association of the College of Librarianship will meet again on June 11. If there are items you wish the board to discuss, please contact Peg Taylor so they may be included on the agenda.

JOBLINES

The College of Librarianship has a jobline for listing jobs that open up in the profession. A list of the jobs and their locations is recorded and you may call the jobline at any time. The jobs are listed with a number, and by writing to us and telling which job you are interested in, you will receive a copy of the announcement. The telephone number is (803) 777-8443.

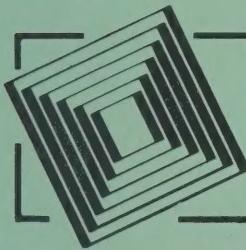

The response to our jobline has been very positive. We have had approximately 500 requests for job information.

PNLA Jobline Service, The Pacific Northwest Library Association Telephone Jobline, (206-543-2890), is the first international telephone jobline. It provides para-professional, professional, and other library-related job openings in academic, public, special, and school libraries and media centers. Areas covered by the service are Alaska, Alberta, British Columbia, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington. Job announcement forms are available from: PNLA Jobline, c/o Pacific Northwest Bibliographic Center, University of Washington, 253 Suzzallo Library FM-25, Seattle, Wash. 98195.

FACULTY NOTES

Duane Johnson is on the following committees for the ALA's Association for Library Services to Children: Newbery-Caldecott Committee, 1979-80; and Reevaluation of Notable Children's Books, 1971-. Duane attended the Conference on "Media Evaluation and Communication" in Rochester, Minn., March 4-6.

Martha Jane Zachert taught a continuing education course, "Teaching Skills for Library Educators," in Chapel Hill at the Medical Center Library for medical librarians and librarians of N.C. Area Health Education Centers.

Martha Jane met with the UNC College of Library Science to discuss its internship plan. The Environmental Protection Agency Library, which provides information support for about 150 researchers in the Research Triangle, is staffed by UNC students as an internship experience. Our faculty is studying the provision of internship experience to USC students.

Chuck Curran and Dan Barron have been invited to submit a paper on user needs and library responses at the annual ALA convention in Dallas this summer. Their proposal was one of five selected from among 36 proposals submitted.

Dan Barron and Chuck Curran gave a workshop on involving teachers in the school media program at Richland District I Headquarters in January.

Martha Jane Zachert, Bill Summers, and Chuck Curran conducted a workshop in March for Special Library Association members interested in the evolving roles of the supervisor.

The University of South Carolina offers equal opportunity in its employment, admissions, and educational activities, in compliance with Title IX, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and other civil rights laws.

FEEDBACK is a publication designed to maintain communication between the College of Librarianship and its alumni and other professionals. Published semi-annually by the College of Librarianship. Fredi Dixon, editor.
